Heron Creek is owned by Marsh Creek Holdings, Ltd., and is being developed by the family-owned companies of Dr. Hans-Jürgen Reichardt, his wife Monika, and sons Thorsten and Alexander. As natives of Germany and part-time residents of Southwest Florida for over ten years, the family brings a unique perspective to the development of Heron Creek. Dr. Reichardt has over 30 years experience in residential and commercial real estate. In the 1970's, while studying business and later on teaching economics at the University in Berlin, he started working in his family's fourth generation real estate businesses in Frankfurt, Germany, and now continues to manage the successful companies. Dr. Reichardt is well respected for his dedication to quality and professionalism. The companies' longevity, numerous achievements, and high level of customer satisfaction are attributed to a simple formula: deliver a quality product at a reasonable price.

Dr. Reichardt, together with Ron York and Jim Bevillard, principals of National Land Group, Inc., planned, designed, and created the golf and country club community and the Towne Center. The highly experienced and professionally skilled members of the Heron Creek development team are dedicated to customer satisfaction, attention to detail, and strict adherence to budgets.

The Heron Creek Master Plan strives to preserve and enhance the natural habitat for the enjoyment of its residents. Every homesite has been optimized for vistas of manicured fairways, sparkling lakes, and pristine natural preserves. Standard architectural requirements, deed restrictions, meticulous landscaping, and numerous amenities allow Heron Creek residents to celebrate and enjoy an incomparable lifestyle in harmony with nature, in a vibrant community of lasting beauty and uncompromising value.
